PASSION TO PROFESSION

COURSE DESCRIPTION

ADMI's Music Production and Sound Engineering Certificate focuses on learning by doing (practical and experiential learning).

Many students who desire to pursue a career in music are usually not very clear on the field of specialization they wish to pursue. There is also a very narrow focus on their understanding of this very wide area of music production and sound engineering.

The course will equip learners with basic technical skills and requisite experience they need to pursue and build successful and exciting careers within this field. Through career launchpad class, learners will acquire essential soft skills that equip them to interact better with other students and the outside world.

UNITS

- Signal Flow and Mixing
